

Would you like to have Zachary Pullen visit your school, group or organization?

An illustrator there to answer any questions you may have and information that you may never have thought of.

When Zak comes for a visit, be prepared to understand the workings of the visual side of picture books. He comes prepared for three presentations and a smaller more intimate lunch with teachers and selected students. Each presentation lasts 45 minutes starting with a PowerPoint presentation. This shows the process of his development and the creation of a book from inspiration to sketches and on through the editorial and publishing process.

He will talk about his background, his inspiration, where it comes from and why and how he ended up writing and illustrating children's books. He will also bring with him original art for the children to see.

Sessions should be scheduled for an hour to allow 15 minutes for Zak to sign books. Otherwise set aside an hour that will be used for this purpose later in the day. This is a great opportunity for those who brought books to meet the author/illustrator.

$1500.00 for school visits

$1500.00 for conferences

Fees listed above are only honorarium and do not include expenses which the hosting organization must pay for.
